Group life insurance

As a member of the union, you are automatically covered by a group life insurance policy. Insurance is paid out automatically to your next of kin.

From 1. January 2008, "next of kin" will be regarded as:

- your spouse,
- a cohabitee who lived with the insured party at the same address and is expecting a child or has already had children with the insured party,
- a cohabitee who lived with the insured party for the two years immediately preceding death,

- the insured party's children,
- the insured party's heirs according to will or the Danish Inheritance Act.

The payout is regulated by the table below and determined according to your age at the time of death
